

participants in this prototype; however, a limited number of participants will be selected. This prototype will be limited to 25 Reconciliations, due to the minimal automated programming available to support this test. We stress that those applicants not selected for participation, and any interested parties, are invited to comment on the design, conduct, and evaluation of this prototype. Participants selected will be notified in writing. The list of participants will be made available on the Customs Electronic Bulletin Board and the Administrative Message System.

III. Test Evaluation Criteria

Once participants are selected, Customs and the participants will meet to review all public comments received concerning any aspect of the test program or procedures, finalize procedures in light of those comments, form problem-solving teams, and establish baseline measures and evaluation methods and criteria. Interim evaluations of the prototype will be published on the Customs Electronic Bulletin Board, and the results of the final prototype evaluation will be published in the Federal Register as required by 19 CFR 101.9(b). The following evaluation methods and criteria have been suggested:

1. Baseline measurements to be established through dataqueries and questionnaires;
2. Reports to be run through use of dataquery throughout the prototype; and
3. Questionnaires from both trade and Customs participants to be used before, during, and after the prototype period. Preliminary suggestions for evaluation criteria are workload impact (workload shifts, cycle time, etc.), cost savings (staff, interest, issuance of fewer checks or bills, tracking refunds or bills, reduction in contingent liabilities, etc.), policy and procedural accommodation, trade compliance impact, problem solving and system efficiency.

Customs will request that test participants be active in the evaluation, identifying costs and savings experienced in this prototype.

Customs intends to conduct several prototypes of the reconciliation component of the NCAP. These tests will determine the system and operational design of reconciliation which will allow all filers to participate in this type of entry process at a national level. At this time, how the final reconciliation program will operate is unknown. Prototype participants must recognize that these are true prototypes to test the benefits and potential problems of reconciliation for Customs, the trade community, and other parties impacted by this program. It is important to note that time and money spent on these prototypes may not carry forward to the final program.

The next reconciliation prototype is tentatively scheduled to commence no sooner than January, 1997. This subsequent prototype will continue to address operational impact and procedures, and begin addressing additional systemic needs. This prototype is intended to include AD/CVD, as well as other issues which lend themselves to processing by reconciliation. The experience gained from the reconciliation prototype for AD/CVD transactions will be incorporated into subsequent prototypes.
