U.S.-Mexico Border Environmental PlanAGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.ACTION: Notice of the availability of the Draft Framework Document for the U.S.-Mexico Border XXI Program.

SUMMARY: The Border XXI Program is a binational environmental planning program for the border area and is the second phase of the Integrated Border Environmental Plan (IBEP), released in February 1992. The goal of the Border XXI Program is to protect human health and the environment and promote sustainable development in the border area (the area extending 100 Km on either side of the boundary between the U.S. and Mexico). It broadens the scope of issues beyond those addressed under the IBEP and, through binational workgroups, deals with the following concerns: natural resources; environmental health; air; water; hazardous and solid wastes; contingency planning and emergency response; enforcement; pollution prevention; and, environmental information resources. Strategies which are central to the Border XXI Program include public involvement, decentralization of border decision making, and increased environmental cooperation between the different governmental agencies operating in the border region. To promote integrated regional planning, the Draft Framework Document is organized around five geographic regions: California-Baja California, Arizona-Sonora, New Mexico-Texas-Chihuahua, Texas-Coahuila-Nuevo Leon, and Texas-Tamaulipas. The Draft Framework Document, developed in cooperation with the Department of Interior and Department of Health and Human Services, reflects an evolving process that will benefit from the experiences and input of various stakeholders, such as the four U.S. and six Mexican border states, as well as tribal nations, local communities, academia, non-governmental organizations, the private sector and border citizens.

Through a series of both domestic and binational public meetings which took place during September through November of 1995 in various border communities, efforts were made to inform the public of objectives of the program and the process adopted for its involvement. At that time, the public also was given an opportunity to comment on the workgroup objectives for the program. These comments were taken into consideration by the binational workgroups in the development of this draft document.

To provide additional opportunity for input, the public will have 45 days from the date of release to comment on the Draft Border XXI Framework Document, which is the first of related documents that will be released under Border XXI. Additional public meetings for receiving verbal comments on the draft will be held during this comment period. Locations and dates of the meetings will be announced separately. The Final Framework Document will be released in the Fall of 1996.

DATES: The Draft Border XXI Framework Document will be made available to the public beginning June 13, 1996. Comments must be submitted no later than July 29, 1996.
