Occidental Petroleum Corporation, et al.; Prohibited Trade Practices and Affirmative Corrective Actions

AGENCY: Federal Trade Commission.

ACTION: Modifying order.

SUMMARY: The order reopens a 1994 modified consent order that settled allegations that Occidental's acquisition of Tenneco would substantially reduce competition in the U.S. market for mass and suspension PVC and required the Commission's prior approval before acquiring the stock or PVC assets of any PVC producer in the United States. This order modifies the consent order by deleting the prior approval requirements in Paragraph VI of the consent order pursuant to the Commission's Prior Approval Policy, under which the Commission presumes that the public interest requires reopening cases and setting aside the prior approval provisions in outstanding merger orders, making them consistent with the policy.

DATES: Consent order issued February 3, 1994. Modifying order issued November 16, 1995.<sup>1</sup>

1. Reliability and Validity Assessment of the Use of Scales of Stressful Life Events in Black Women of Reproductive Age—(0920-0356)—Reinstatement—A CDC review of studies of psychosocial factors and adverse pregnancy outcome supports the hypothesis that high levels of exposure to stressful life experiences put black women at increased risk for adverse reproductive outcome, particularly Preterm Delivery (PTD) and Very Low Birth Weight (VLBW). The purpose of this study is to evaluate the reliability and validity of existing instruments that measure stressful life events in black women of reproductive age. Respondents will consist of reproductive age residents who live in the Atlanta area and who attend a health care facility that has a behavioral prenatal unit. Approximately one half of the women will be pregnant at the time of data collection.

Women enrolled in the study respond to a series of demographic and psychosocial questionnaires. Women are also asked to provide a 24 hour urine sample and saliva sample. Both samples are used to correlate reported levels of stress with laboratory measures of stress.

Participation in this study is voluntary and participants will receive a reimbursement for their time. A written informed consent will be obtained and oversight will be provided by local institutional review.

The study is ongoing and by December 31, 1996, approximately two-thirds of data collection will be completed. In January 1997, we need to continue data collection so that we will have 100 women for the validity study and 29 women for the reliability study. To complete the validity study, 100 women will be interviewed and will submit one 24 hour urine collection and a saliva sample. To complete the reliability study, 29 women will be interviewed on two separate occasions to determine whether responses to the structured stress scales are consistent. These women will also submit a 24 hour urine collection and a saliva sample. the total estimated cost to respondents is at $8,616.
