

limitation? If yes, what time period? Should shippers be required to attach these written responses to the waiver request?

(7) Should MARAD be required to canvas all U.S.-flag operators on each waiver request, and establish a reasonable procedure for response by carriers? Should each carrier designate a specific office or individual as a point of contact for shippers regarding cargo movements resulting from EXIMBANK projects?

(8) Should MARAD alter its procedure for considering a waiver for shippers to move oversize parcels on foreign-flag vessels that cannot be carried on U.S.-flag carriers? Should MARAD prohibit shippers from "bundling" other parcels of cargo with the oversize parcel? If not, under what circumstances, if any, should shippers be allowed to "bundle" their cargoes, so long as this is not done merely to avoid using U.S.-flag carriers?

(9) Should MARAD allow a "To Be Named" (TBN) vessel on the initial waiver request form to facilitate early (45 days or more) notice providing, however, that no waiver is granted without a specific vessel being named?

(10) In addition to the current publicly-published sailing schedules, should U.S.-flag vessel operators be required to provide MARAD, on a regular basis, the particulars of their U.S.-flag vessels or equipment, indicating maximum dimensions, weights and types of cargo they can handle? Should U.S.-flag carriers be required to furnish MARAD, on a regular basis, a forward projection of their U.S.-flag fleet anticipated service areas? If yes, how far projected?

(11) Would the implementation of any changes that would substantially relax waiver requirements discourage operators from bringing vessels under or keeping vessels under the U.S. flag by shrinking the U.S.-flag cargo base? Would such relaxation also deter the possibility of the bringing in of new breakbulk or roll-on/roll-off tonnage under the U.S.-flag?

(12) What system could best ensure that the actual shipment (as reflected in the bill of lading) conforms to the terms, conditions, and specifications of the waiver granted?

By order of the Maritime Administrator,
Edmund T. Sommer, Jr.,
Acting Secretary, Maritime Administration.
