Office of Inspector General

Privacy Act of 1974, as Amended; System of Records

AGENCY: Departmental Offices, Treasury.

ACTION: Notice of Revised System of Records.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974, the Office of Inspector General (OIG) gives notice of a revised system of records entitled General Allegations and Investigative Records—Treasury/DO.190. The system notice was last published in its entirety in the Federal Register, at 60 FR 56664 on November 9, 1995.

DATES: This notice will be adopted without further publication in the Federal Register on April 15, 1996, unless modified by a subsequent notice to incorporate comments received from the public.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be sent to Office of Inspector General, Assistant Inspector General for Resources, Room 7119, 1201 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20220. Comments received will be available for inspection in the Office of Inspector General, Resources Directorate, Room 7102, 1201 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, DC, during the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Rennay Nicholas, Resources Directorate, (202) 927-5210.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The General Allegations and Investigative Records system is being revised to reflect additional system locations, authority for maintenance of the system, and revisions to the storage, retrievability, retention, and system manager sections. The revisions are necessary to accommodate the OIG's expanded size and increased responsibility, which resulted in part from the Inspector General Act Amendments of 1988 (Pub. L. 100-504).

To adequately fulfill its mission, the OIG's Office of Investigations has opened offices in five locations around the country. Keeping investigative files in these locations is essential to the successful operation and adequate record keeping of the Office of Investigations.

The Privacy Act notice data element "Purpose(s)" is being added to the notice to conform with requirements of the Act.

The storage and safeguards of magnetic media have been changed to increase security over those indices.

The investigative index, which previously had been maintained on index cards, has been automated. The automation allows for more rapid retrieval of case numbers and status synopses. Retrievability by case agent's name and number is being added to further assist OIG officials in evaluating workload and case status information. In addition, a correspondence tracking system called the Correspondence Allegations and Investigative Tracking System (CAITS) was developed to more efficiently control investigative correspondence. CAITS is accessed through the OIG's Management Information System (DO.191) menu. However, the records reside in Treasury/DO.190—General Allegations and Investigative Records system.

The retention period for investigative indices stored on magnetic media has been changed to be retained indefinitely. The records will be updated as necessary.

The system manager responsibility has been delegated to the Assistant Inspector General for Investigations for increased office efficiency.
