

would be more initial out-of-pocket expenses for the beneficiary if the assignment rate is reduced.

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

We generally prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis that is consistent with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 through 612), unless we certify that a notice would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. For purposes of the RFA, all suppliers are considered to be small entities. Individuals and States are not included in the definition of a small entity.

In addition, section 1102(b) of the Act requires us to prepare a regulatory impact analysis if a notice may have a significant impact on the operations of a substantial number of small rural hospitals. Such an analysis must conform to the provisions of section 603 of the RFA. For purposes of section 1102(b) of the Act, we define a small rural hospital as a hospital that is located outside of a Metropolitan Statistical Area and has fewer than 50 beds.

In determining whether to adjust payment rates under section 1842(b)(8)(A) and (9)(A) of the Act, we are required to consider the potential impacts on quality, access, and beneficiary liability of the adjustment, including the likely effects on assignment rates, reasonable charge reductions on unassigned claims, and participation rates of suppliers.

This proposed reduction in Medicare payment would affect suppliers of home oxygen. These suppliers would have their payment allowances for Medicare home oxygen patients reduced. Suppliers can choose to accept assignment, which means they agree to accept Medicare's approved amount as payment in full. It is possible that, as a consequence of our reducing payments for home oxygen, the number of suppliers accepting assignment of a beneficiary's claim for Medicare payment for these services may decrease if suppliers choose instead to charge beneficiaries the full difference between the amount charged and the lower Medicare payment. Also, the number of suppliers who elect to become or remain "participating suppliers" may decrease as a result of reduced payments for home oxygen. Under the Medicare participation program, a supplier that decides to become a "participating supplier" must agree to accept assignment for all covered services furnished to Medicare beneficiaries. Participating suppliers benefit by being listed in the Medicare Participating Physician/Supplier Directories, known as Medpards, which are compiled by the Medicare carriers and furnished to various senior citizen groups. A Medicare beneficiary can obtain the Medpard for his or her State from the Medicare carrier.

Suppliers who do not accept assignment and charge more than the Medicare approved amount can collect the balance; that is, the actual charge minus Medicare payment, from the beneficiary. Therefore, beneficiaries who receive services from suppliers who do not accept assignment are exposed to greater financial liability than those who receive services from a supplier taking assignment. As a result, Medicare beneficiaries may choose to deal with suppliers who accept assignment in order to reduce their financial liability. We expect that this special payment limit would have minimal effects on the quality of home oxygen services furnished to beneficiaries since we do not expect suppliers to reduce the quality or the type of services provided. Also, we expect only minimal effects on beneficiary access to home oxygen, even in rural areas, since we do not expect many suppliers to discontinue supplying oxygen.

Although a payment reduction of 40.11 percent for home oxygen appears large, it is a result of Medicare's grossly excessive payment allowances that have resulted in windfall profits. We would expect suppliers to adjust to the elimination of this windfall accordingly.

IV. Paperwork Reduction Act

This notice does not impose information collection and recordkeeping requirements. Consequently, it need not be reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget under the authority of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 through 3511).

V. Response to Comments

Because of the large number of items of correspondence we normally receive on Federal Register documents published for comment, we are not able to acknowledge or respond to them individually. We will consider all comments we receive by the date and time specified in the DATES section of this preamble, and, if we proceed with a subsequent document, we will respond to the comments in the preamble to that document. Moreover, we may elect to engage in further consultation with industry representatives if comments we receive make such further consultation necessary or appropriate.
