SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) has the authority, under 35 USC § 251, to reissue a patent to correct any errors in the original patent which occurred "without any deceptive intention" on the part of the patentee. To obtain a reissue patent, the patentee files a reissue application with the PTO. The PTO reviews the application, and if it meets the statutory and regulatory requirements for a reissue patent, the PTO will reissue the patent as long as the patentee surrenders the original patent. One of these requirements is that a reissue oath or declaration be included with the application. The PTO requires the patentee under 37 CFR 1.175 to include an explanation of why the errors being corrected by the reissue occurred without any deceptive intent. As a result of this requirement, if any additional changes are made during the reissue application examination process, the patentee has to submit a supplemental reissue oath or declaration stating that the additional errors also occurred without any deceptive intention. If the patentee does not submit a supplemental reissue oath or declaration, the examiner must reject the reissue application. See Changes to Patent Practice and Procedure; Final Rule Notice, 62 FR 53131, 53165-66 (October 10, 1997), 1203 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 63, 92 (October 21, 1997).

The PTO requires under 37 CFR 1.175 that the patentee submit a supplemental oath or declaration which asserts only that any error corrected during examination of the reissue application, which was not covered by the oath or declaration filed originally, arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant. Under 37 CFR 1.175 as recently amended, the patentee no longer has to provide the details of how those errors occurred without any deceptive intention. Specifically, when changes are made during the reissue application examination process, the recently amended 37 CFR 1.175(b) requires only a supplemental oath or declaration by the applicant stating that, "every error in the patent which was corrected in the present reissue application, and which is not covered by the prior oath(s)/declaration(s) submitted in this application, arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant".

The PTO believes that the requirement for the supplemental oath or declaration is necessary because 35 U.S.C. § 251 does not authorize the correction of any errors that occurred with deceptive intention. A supplemental oath or declaration would prohibit patentees from trying to correct any errors that occurred with deceptive intent in a reissue patent application that was originally filed to correct, with an oath or declaration that covers only those errors which occurred without any deception. The PTO believes that the supplemental oath or declaration will prohibit the patentee from attempting to "piggyback" corrections of errors that occurred with deceptive intent in a reissue originally filed to correct an error that occurred without deceptive intent. Errors that occurred with deceptive intent cannot be corrected by a reissue patent.

Originally, the PTO did not provide a form for a supplemental oath or declaration because 37 CFR 1.175 required application-specific facts. Now that 37 CFR 1.175(b) has been revised to require only a general statement, the PTO has designed Form PTO/SB/51S, Supplemental Declaration for Reissue Patent Application (37 CFR 1.175). This form does not replace Form PTO/SB/51, Reissue Application Declaration By The Inventor or Form PTO/SB/52, Reissue Application Declaration By The Assignee, which are used by the patentee or assignee in the originally filed reissue patent application. The additional form, PTO/SB/51S, is used to provide the required statement that "every error in the patent which was corrected in the present reissue application, and which is not covered by the prior oath(s)/declaration(s) submitted in this application, arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant".
