DEPARTMENT OF ENERGYFederal Energy Regulatory Commission

[Project No. 2170-008]

Chugach Electric Association; Notice of Intent to Conduct a Site Visit

October 16, 1998.

The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission) has pending an application to amend the license for the Cooper Lake Hydroelectric Project. The proposed amendment is for modifying the project dam and spillway to allow safe passage of the Probable Maximum Flood. On July 7, 1998, the Commission issued a Draft Environmental Assessment (DEA) that addressed the environmental effects of this proposed amendment. Numerous comments were received from state and federal agencies and non-governmental organizations; some of these entities have intervened in this proceeding.

A site visit to the project facilities is scheduled for November 3, 1998. The purpose of this site visit is for staff and interested persons to observe the existing area resources and site conditions and for staff to gather any information on resources at issue. All entities interested in accompanying staff on the site visit need to provide their own transportation to the project facilities. Access to the facilities may require 4-wheel drive vehicles due to inclement weather conditions. Water access to various site features would require boats.

The site visit will begin at the project powerhouse on Kenai Lake at 10:00 AM. The powerhouse is located on Snug Harbor Road. From Anchorage take the Seward Highway (Route 1) to its intersection with Route 9; continue on Route 1 towards Soldotna; after crossing the Kenai River take an immediate left on to Snug Harbor Road and just before an uphill grade take a left on to a gated road to the powerhouse on Kenai Lake.

Further, the staff is intending to conduct a public meeting on the Cooper Lake Project in Anchorage, Alaska in December. A public notice providing details on this meeting will be issued by the Commission.

Those intending to go on the site visit should contact either John K. Novak at (202) 219-2828 of Commission staff or Burke Wick of Chugach Electric Association at (907) 762-4779 by October 29, 1998, for any further details.

Secretary.
