

significant and there will be far less energy in any oscillations. Additionally, these tests will be conducted inside the offshore bar at the SRI site. The offshore bar ameliorates the transmission of the underwater portion of the shock wave. Also, MK-82 GPBs will be buried in bottom sands to approximately their center of gravity (3 ft (0.9 m)), a factor expected to mitigate the transmission of the shock wave as the detonations will be directed downwards.

Human mitigation: Eglin has established safety zones to prevent marine mammal injury for each test. These safety zones are: 0.75 km (0.47 mi) for SABRE-22, 1.0 km (0.62 mi) for SABRE-23, 1.0 km (0.62 mi) for DET, 6.0 km (3.73 mi) for MK-82 GPB, and 0.5 km (0.31 mi) for MK-5 MCS.

Eglin has proposed that base personnel conduct a 30-minute pre-detonation aerial monitoring survey immediately prior to each test to ensure no marine mammals are within each test area's designated safety zone. With water depths less than 18 m (59 ft), low turbidity, and white sand bottom, exceptional marine mammal visibility is ensured. Aerial surveys will be conducted at approximately 100 ft (30.5 m) elevation.

In order to ensure adequate visibility for locating marine mammals (and sea turtles), no tests will take place if sea state conditions are greater than category 3 and water clarity is not adequate for conducting surveys. No tests will take place if marine mammals or sea turtles are sighted within the safety zone.

Monitoring

In addition to pre-detonation monitoring mentioned previously, Eglin will conduct aerial surveys immediately following each detonation event. The post-test monitoring will be conducted in a similar manner to the pre-test monitoring, except that observation personnel will be focusing on locating any injured marine mammals. If any injured marine mammals are observed during post-test monitoring, subsequent detonations will be postponed, and the local stranding network notified. The project will be required to be reviewed by Air Force and NMFS personnel prior to conducting any additional tests.

Reporting

Any takes of marine mammals other than those authorized by the IHA will be reported to the Regional Administrator, NMFS, by the next working day. A draft final report of the entire test results and marine mammal observations for pre- and post-detonation monitoring will be submitted to NMFS within 90 days after completion of the last test. Unless notified by NMFS to the contrary, that draft final report will be considered the final report under the IHA.

National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA)

As part of its request for a small take authorization, the Air Force prepared two EAs, one for SABRE and DET and a second document for the MK-82/MK-5 systems. These EAs, which supplement information contained in the application, are necessary for determining whether the activities proposed for receiving small take authorizations are having a negligible impact on affected marine mammal stocks. NMFS has reviewed the EAs and concurs with the findings. As a result, NMFS finds that it is unnecessary to prepare its own NEPA documentation and hereby adopts the Air Force EAs as its own, as provided by 40 CFR 1506.3. NMFS finds that the issuance of an IHA to the Air Force will not result in a significant environmental impact on the human environment and that it is unnecessary to either prepare its own NEPA documentation or to recirculate the Air Force EAs for additional comments.

Consultation

On October 15, 1998, NMFS completed consultation with the Air Force under section 7 of the ESA. The finding of that consultation was that the proposed testing activity is not likely to adversely affect endangered or threatened species of whales or sea turtles, if the conservation and mitigation measures specified in the Biological Assessment prepared by the Air Force are undertaken. NMFS concludes, therefore, that the issuance of an IHA to the Air Force to take small numbers of bottlenose dolphins, spotted dolphins and possibly other cetacean species by harassment incidental to explosive testing at Eglin is not likely to adversely affect endangered or threatened species of whales or sea turtles.

Conclusions

NMFS has determined that the short-term impact of incidentally taking small numbers of bottlenose dolphins, spotted dolphins, and possibly other cetacean species by harassment and non-serious injury incidental to explosive testing of obstacle and mine clearance systems at Eglin, as described previously in this document, will result, at worst, in the brief harassment of these species and possibly in a temporary behavioral modification. While behavioral modifications may be made by these species to avoid the resultant acoustic disturbance, this action is expected to have a negligible impact on both individual animals and the stocks of these mammals. In addition, no take by injury and/or death is anticipated, and harassment takes will be at the lowest level practicable due to incorporation of the mitigation measures mentioned above.

Since NMFS is assured that the taking would not result in more than the incidental harassment (as defined by the MMPA) of small numbers of bottlenose dolphins, spotted dolphins and possibly other cetacean species and would result in the least practicable impact on the stocks, NMFS has determined that the requirements of subsection 101(a)(5)(D) have been met and the authorization can be issued.

Authorization

For the above reasons, NMFS has issued an IHA to the Air Force for the incidental harassment and non-serious injury of a small number of bottlenose dolphins, spotted dolphins, and possibly other cetacean species. NMFS has determined that, provided the mitigation, monitoring, and reporting requirements described in the authorization are undertaken the short-term impact of explosives testing for obstacle and mine clearance systems at Eglin has the potential to result in no more than a negligible impact on affected marine mammal stocks.

A. Purpose

The North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act authorizes counties and incorporated cities and towns to obtain each year from the Commissioner of Revenue of the State of North Carolina a refund of sales and use taxes indirectly paid on building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of or are annexed to any building or structure in North Carolina. However, to substantiate a refund claim for sales or use taxes paid on purchases of building materials, supplies, fixtures, or equipment by a contractor, the Government must secure from the contractor certified statements setting forth the cost of the property purchased from each vendor and the amount of sales or use taxes paid. Similar certified statements by subcontractors must be obtained by the general contractor and furnished to the Government. The information is used as evidence to establish exemption from State and local taxes.
