

undertake abandoned noncoal mine reclamation, community impact assistance, and public facilities projects under sections 411(b), (e), and (f), of SMCRA.

State law and regulations that apply to the proposed Ridgewater funding request include Wyoming Statute 35-11-1201 and Wyoming Abandoned Mine Land Regulations, Chapter VII, of the Wyoming Abandoned Mine Program.

III. Wyoming's Request To Fund Part of the Cost of Rebuilding the Ridgewater Distribution System

The Wyoming Department of Environmental Quality submitted to us a grant application dated December 21, 1998. In that application, Wyoming asked for $76,265 that it will use to pay for part of the cost of rebuilding the Ridgewater Improvement District water distribution system in Converse County, Wyoming. This water distribution system is a public facility in a community impacted by coal mining activities. The requested funding is 29 percent of the project's total cost. Money for the balance of the project cost will come from State loan and district water user assessments and reserves.

The Governor of Wyoming certified the need and urgency to fund the Ridgewater Improvement District project before the State's remaining inventory of non-coal reclamation work is finished as allowed by section 411(f) of SMCRA. That certification says the project is in a community impacted by coal mining activities. The Ridgewater Improvement District was developed during the boom period when inadequate regulation resulted in poorly designed water and sewer systems. As a result, current distribution lines are too small to provide for the District's fire suppression services. The District also has wastewater treatment problems. Wastewater potentially can infiltrate drinking water lines due to poor line conditions.

The project will mitigate the impacts of rapid industrial growth by providing safe drinking water and fire suppression capability in the District. The Governor's certification states that the current need for District fire suppression capability and concern for wastewater infiltrating drinking water supplies warrants funding this project before the State reclaims its remaining inventory of non-coal projects.

IV. How We Will Review Wyoming's Grant Application

We will review this grant application with respect to the regulations at 30 CFR 875.15, specifically subsections 875.15(e) (1) through (7). As stated in those regulations, the application must include the following information: (1) The need or urgency for the activity or the construction of the public facility; (2) the expected impact the project will have on Wyoming's coal or minerals industry; (3) the availability of funding from other sources and, if other funding is provided, its percentage of the total costs involved; (4) documentation from other local, State, and Federal agencies with oversight for such utilities or facilities describing what funding they have available and why their agency is not fully funding this specific project; (5) the impact on the State, the public, and the minerals industry if the facility is not funded; (6) the reason why this project should be selected before a priority project relating to the protection of the public health and safety or the environment from the damages caused by past mining activities, and (7) an analysis and review of the procedures Wyoming used to notify and involve the public in this funding request, and a copy of all comments received and their resolution by the State. Wyoming's application for the Ridgewater Improvement District project contains the information described in these seven subsections.

Section 875.15(f) requires us to evaluate all comments we receive and determine whether the funding meets the requirements of sections 875.15(e) (1) through (7) described above. It also requires us to determine if the request is in the best interests of the State's AML program. We will approve Wyoming's request to fund this project if we conclude that it meets all the requirements of 30 CFR 875.15.

V. What To Do if You Want To Comment on the Proposed Project

We are asking for public comments on Wyoming's request for funds to pay for part of the cost of rebuilding the Ridgewater water distribution system. You are welcome to comment on the project. If you do, please give us written comments. Make sure your comments are specific and pertain to Wyoming's funding request in the context of the regulations at 30 CFR 875.15 and the provisions of section 411 of SMCRA. You should explain any recommendations you make. If we receive your comments after the time shown under DATES or at locations other than the Casper Field Office, we will not necessarily consider them in our final decision or include them in the administrative record.
