SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) (16 U.S.C. 3101 et seq.) was signed into law on December 2, 1980. The broad purpose of this law is to provide for the disposition and use of a variety of federally owned lands in Alaska. Section 303 of ANILCA established Togiak National Wildlife Refuge which includes the Cape Newenham National Wildlife Refuge. ANILCA lists the purposes for which Togiak Refuge was established and is managed, which are to conserve fish and wildlife populations and habitats in their natural diversity; to fulfill the international treaty obligations of the United States with respect to fish and wildlife and their habitats; to provide the opportunity for continued subsistence uses by local residents; and to ensure water quality and necessary water quantity within the refuge. Section 304(g) of ANILCA directs the Service to prepare comprehensive plans for all refuges and to revise them "from time to time."

The National Wildlife Refuge System Improvement Act of 1997, which amended the Refuge Administration Act, also includes requirements for system wide refuge planning. Should any provisions of the Refuge Administration Act conflict with the provisions of ANILCA, the provisions of ANILCA shall prevail for refuges in Alaska. Plans identify and describe: the populations and habitats of the fish and wildlife resources of the refuge; the special values of the refuge, as well as any other archeological, cultural, ecological, geological, historical, paleontological, scenic, or wilderness value of the refuge; areas of the refuge that are suitable for use as administrative sites or visitor facilities, or for visitor services; present and potential requirements for access; and significant problems which may adversely affect the populations and habitats of fish and wildlife. The plans designate areas within the Refuge according to their respective resources and values; specify programs for conserving fish and wildlife and maintaining the special values of the Refuge; specify uses which may be compatible with the major purposes of the Refuge; and identify opportunities to be provided for fish and wildlife-oriented recreation, ecological research, environmental education and interpretation of Refuge resources and values, if they are compatible with the purposes of the Refuge.

The Togiak comprehensive plan was completed in 1987. Much of the management direction in the comprehensive plan is now out of date due to changes in laws, regulations, and circumstances. In 1991 the Service completed a public use management plan which provided additional guidance for management of public use along popular sport fishing rivers. In 1997 the Refuge began to revise the public use management plan to address increasing public use of the Refuge. The Service has decided to combine the comprehensive plan and the public use management plan and prepare one revised comprehensive conservation plan and environmental impact statement for the Refuge.

This notice formally begins the revision of the comprehensive plan for the Togiak National Wildlife Refuge. In addition to soliciting public comments through this notice, public comments on issues to be addressed in the revision will be solicited through newsletters and other mailings. The comprehensive plan revision will be discussed during community meetings in Togiak, Quinhagak, Goodnews, Platinum, Manokotak, Aleknigik, Clark's Point, Dillingham and Anchorage, AK between April and November 1999. Once issues are identified, the Service will identify options to address the issues and prepare a draft comprehensive plan and draft environmental impact statement. This document is scheduled to be released for public review in the fall of 2000. After public review and comment on the draft plan and environmental impact statement, including public meetings, a final plan and environmental impact statement will be prepared and released.

In preparing and revising the plan, the Service will consult with appropriate State agencies and Native corporations and will hold public meetings to ensure that residents of local villages and political subdivisions of the State which are most affected by administration of the Refuge have the opportunity to present their views on the plan revisions. Before adopting a plan, The Service will publish a notice in the Federal Register and will provide an opportunity for public views and comment.

Electronic Access: Interested persons may submit comments and data by electronic mail (E-mail) to: Maggi_Arend@fws.gov. Submit electronic comments as an ASCII file avoiding the use of special characters and any form of encryption.
