BILLING CODE 4810-25-P

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Internal Revenue Service

Privacy Act of 1974, As Amended; System of Records

AGENCY: Internal Revenue Service, Treasury.

ACTION: Notice of proposed new privacy act system of records.

SUMMARY: In accordance with the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, 5 U.S.C. 552a, the Department of the Treasury, Internal Revenue Service, gives notice of a proposed new system of records entitled "Treasury/IRS 22.062—Electronic Filing Records."

DATES: Comments must be received no later than October 2, 2000. This new system of records will be effective October 10, 2000 unless the IRS receives comments which would result in a contrary determination.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be sent to the Office of Governmental Liaison and Disclosure, Internal Revenue Service, 1111 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20224. Comments will be made available for inspection and copying in the Freedom of Information Reading Room (1621) at the above address, upon request.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

JoAnn Blank, National Director, Individual Electronic Filing Division, Electronic Tax Administration, OP:ETA:I, Internal Revenue Service, 5000 Ellin Road, Lanham, MD 20706. Telephone number (202) 283-4790.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The proposed system will allow the IRS to better serve the public through more efficient administration of electronic filing of returns. The proposed system will include records about current, past, and potential electronic filing providers, and records concerning marketing and improving electronic filing processes. Records about electronic providers will be used to determine their suitability to participate in the electronic filing program. Certain records will concern why electronic providers have been rejected from participation, including the reasons for such rejection, or for suspension or expulsion from participation. Electronic providers are electronic return originators, electronic return transmitters, and individual filing software developers. Potential electronic filing providers are individuals to whom the IRS wants to market the benefits of becoming an electronic filing provider. An electronic return originator is: (a) An electronic return preparer who prepares returns for taxpayers who intend to have their returns electronically filed, or (b) an electronic return collector who accepts completed tax returns, including Forms 8453 (U.S. Individual Income Tax Declaration for Electronic Filing), from taxpayers who intend to have their returns electronically filed. An electronic return transmitter transmits the electronic portion of a return directly to the IRS. In order to protect the public interest, IRS conducts background investigations of people who apply to file returns electronically for others. Principals of firms or organizations who want to electronically file for others must file IRS Form 8633 (Application to Participate in the Electronic Filing Program). The information from Form 8633 will be used for background checks, which may include fingerprint checks and inquiries to the FBI asking whether the applicant has a criminal history. Records in the system will include records with information from people who volunteer their opinions concerning how to improve electronic filing procedures and ease of use. Records may also include information about people who attend seminars or otherwise express an interest in electronic filing so they can receive information about the benefits of electronic filing.

The proposed new system of records entitled "Electronic Filing Records—Treasury/IRS 22.062" is published in its entirety below.
