All documents should be filed by providing an original and eight copies, as required by the Commission's regulations, to: David P. Boergers, Secretary, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20426.

Please include the project name and number (Station 2 Project, No. 2482–016) on any comments or motions filed.

k. Description of Amendment: License Article 401 of the existing license, issued February 22, 1996, requires the licensee: (1) to operate the subject hydropower project in a modified run-of-river mode whereby flows downstream of the project tailrace approximate inflows to the project reservoir; and (2) to maintain the elevation of the project's 16-acre impoundment between 482.3 and 482.9 feet mean sea level (msl). Therefore, the reservoir elevation is currently authorized to fluctuate up to 0.6-foot per day.

Further, license Article 402 requires the licensee to release from the Station 2 dam into the project's bypass reach: (1) a continuous flow of at least 300 cubic feet per second (cfs) between 11:00 a.m. and 11 p.m. daily; and (2) a continuous flow of at least 25 cfs between 11:00 p.m. and 11:00 a.m. daily, or inflow, whichever is less. The 300 cfs releases provide a veil flow over the 90-foot-high Upper Falls, an important local aesthetic resource located immediately downstream of the project dam.

The subject filing indicates that the license-mandated reservoir elevation range has made it difficult to generate hydropower efficiently while at the same time providing the required veil flow. These operating difficulties have resulted in significant excess spillage and, consequently, generation loss of 1 to 2 megawatts per hour for 40 percent of the year. For example, with river flows between 1,500 cfs and 3,000 cfs, and the maximum allowable reservoir elevation set at 482.9 feet msl, the licensee can only provide the required 300 cfs veil flow by opening the dam gates, which results in generation loss.

To remedy this situation, the licensee proposes to provide the required veil flow by usually maintaining a minimum reservoir elevation of 483.3 feet msl, which would result in the spillage of 300 cfs over the dam gates. Infrequently, the licensee would provide the veil flow by raising one or more gates. When this method is used, the elevation of the impoundment would be maintained at not less than 482.3 feet msl. Lastly, between 11:00 p.m. and 11:00 a.m., when bypass flow may consist only of dam leakage of 25 cfs, the licensee would maintain the reservoir elevation at not less than 482.3 feet msl. Thus, under the proposed operating regime, the reservoir elevation could fluctuate by one foot per day, from 482.3 to 483.3 feet msl.

l. Locations of application: Copies of the application are available for inspection and reproduction at the Commission's Public Reference Room, located at 888 First Street, NE, Room 2A, Washington, DC 20426, or by calling (202) 208–1371.
