II. Background

A. Introduction

Title XIII of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992, Pubic Law 102-550, entitled the "Federal Housing Enterprises Financial Safety and Soundness Act of 1992" (Act) (12 U.S.C. 4501 et seq.), established OFHEO as an independent office within the Department of Housing and Urban Development to ensure that the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac) (collectively, the Enterprises) are capitalized adequately and operate safely and in compliance with applicable laws, rules, and regulations.

The relationship of the government-sponsored enterprises to financial markets is critical to their viability. To accomplish their missions, the Enterprises must have access to capital markets. In supporting the primary mortgage markets, secondary market players, including the Enterprises, access domestic and global financing sources and offer a variety of issuances demanded by these markets. The Enterprises are significant as participants in mortgage-backed securities and agency debt markets, and in related hedging activities, and as issuers and guarantors of securities.

As users of and participants in the financial markets, the success of the Enterprises in meeting their public policy missions and in maintaining their safe and sound operations is inextricably tied to full and robust disclosure.¹ Disclosure may provide information about the corporate operations of a firm, the intricacies of a given securities offering, or specialized information concerning particular events or business practices. In addition, Enterprise securities have become increasingly significant to domestic and foreign market participants. The business practices of the Enterprises affect large and small investors, debt markets and international debt holders alike. Access to the markets and the price of that access are directly affected by investor perceptions of the transparency of the Enterprises and the safety and soundness of their operations. In such an environment, as the Enterprises themselves acknowledge, they have an interest in providing "best in class" disclosures.²

B. Disclosure and Safe and Sound Operations

Full and adequate disclosure of information by the Enterprises regarding their financial conditions and risks is an important part of OFHEO's supervisory program. Full disclosure enhances market discipline.³ OFHEO possesses both explicit and implied authorities to address the Enterprises' disclosure practices.⁴ The office has at its disposal a range of supervisory tools to require full and meaningful disclosures.⁵

While the offer and sale of their securities are exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933⁶ and their securities are exempted securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act),⁷ the Enterprises last July indicated that they would voluntarily register their common stock with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) under the provisions of section 12(g) of the Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. 78l(g). That section permits companies not covered by the Exchange Act and its requirements for periodic disclosures to submit voluntarily to SEC rules. Voluntary registration triggers the attendant rules and regulations of the SEC, including SEC enforcement authorities. Once a company volunteers, it must remain under the strictures of the law, unless permitted to remove itself by the SEC. OFHEO is proposing this regulation, in part, to facilitate the process of voluntary registration by the Enterprises under the Exchange Act.

OFHEO has a broad statutory mandate to adopt regulations, rules, and guidances deemed to be appropriate to assuring the safety and soundness of the Enterprises including appropriate disclosures that aid in promoting market discipline. OFHEO is empowered fully to mandate financial and securities disclosure and to take related actions to implement such regulatory requirements through filings and submissions, examination and oversight of disclosures. OFHEO anticipates no duplication of regulation as it administers its broad safety and soundness obligations.

III. Section-by-Section Analysis

Section 1730.1 Purpose

This part would require the Enterprises to prepare and submit financial and other disclosures as specified by OFHEO. The required disclosures are intended to complement the supervisory efforts of OFHEO to ensure the capital strength of the Enterprises and to promote safe and sound operations within each Enterprise and the mortgage-finance system.

This section also would note that this regulation does not limit or restrict the authority of OFHEO to act under its safety and soundness mandate to regulate the Enterprises, including conducting examinations, requiring reports and disclosures, and enforcing compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations.

Section 1730.2 Definitions

This section would set forth definitions relevant to the proposed regulation.

Section 1730.3 Periodic Disclosures

This section would require each Enterprise to prepare disclosures relating to its financial condition, results of operation, business developments and management expectations that include supporting financial information and certification thereof.

An Enterprise would satisfy the proposed requirement for periodic disclosures required in the section if:

1. In the case of an Enterprise having a class of securities registered pursuant to section 12 of the Exchange Act, the Enterprise prepares an annual report, quarterly report, and current reports, and such other materials that may be required under the rules and regulations of the Commission, including interpretations by the Commission and its staff and rules governing audited financial statements;

2. The Enterprise files with the Commission all reports, statements and forms required pursuant to section 14(a) and (c) of the Exchange Act and by rules and regulations adopted by the Commission under that section; and

3. The officers and members of the board of directors of the Enterprise file with the Commission all reports and forms relating to the common stock of the Enterprises required pursuant to section 16 of the Exchange Act and by rules and regulations adopted by the Commission under that section.

Section 1730.4 Submission of Disclosures

This section would require that, unless otherwise directed by OFHEO, the Enterprises must provide to OFHEO on a concurrent basis copies of all disclosures filed with the SEC under § 1730.3.

Regulatory Impact

Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review

The proposed regulation would not result in an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; or have significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or foreign markets. Accordingly, no regulatory impact assessment is required. The proposed regulation, however, has been submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for review under other provisions of Executive Order 12866 as a significant regulatory action.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) requires that a regulation that has a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, small businesses, or small organizations must include an initial regulatory flexibility analysis describing the regulation's impact on small entities. Such an analysis need not be undertaken if the agency has certified that the regulation will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. 5 U.S.C. 605(b). OFHEO has considered the impact of the proposed regulation under the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The General Counsel of OFHEO certifies that the proposed regulation, if adopted, is not likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small business entities because the regulation is applicable only to the Enterprises, which are not small entities for purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Executive Order 13132, Federalism

Executive Order 13132 requires that Executive departments and agencies identify regulatory actions that have significant federalism implications. A regulation has federalism implications if it has substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship or distribution of power between the Federal government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among various levels of government. The Enterprises are federally chartered corporations supervised by OFHEO. The proposed regulation sets forth minimum disclosure standards with which the Enterprises must comply for Federal supervisory purposes and address the safety and soundness authorities of the agency. The proposed regulation does not affect in any manner the powers and authorities of any State with respect to the Enterprises or alter the distribution of power and responsibilities between State and Federal levels of government. Therefore, OFHEO has determined that the proposed regulation has no federalism implications that warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment in accordance with Executive Order 13132.
