The Commission lists in § 1B1.10(c) the specific guideline amendments that the court may apply retroactively under 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(2). The background commentary to § 1B1.10 lists the purpose of the amendment, the magnitude of the change in the guideline range made by the amendment, and the difficulty of applying the amendment retroactively to determine an amended guideline range under § 1B1.10(b) as among the factors the Commission considers in selecting the amendments included in § 1B1.10(c). To the extent practicable, written testimony should address each of these factors. Data relating to possible retroactivity maybe accessed through the Commission's Web site at <http://www.ussc.gov>.

Background

Section 1201 of SAFETEA-LU established the Real-Time System Management Information Program to provide, in all States, the capability to monitor, in real-time, the traffic and travel conditions of the major highways of the United States and to share that data with State and local governments and with the traveling public. On May 4, 2006, the FHWA published a notice in the Federal Register at 71 FR 26399 outlining some proposed preliminary program parameters and seeing public comments on the proposed description of the Real-Time System Management Information Program, including its outcome goals definitions for various program parameters, and the current status of related activities in the States. We are using the comments we received in response to that notice to develop regulations on the Real-Time System Management Information Program. We expect to publish our notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) for this program shortly.

Our forthcoming NPRM does not pertain to subsections 1201(b) and 1201(c)(2). Subsection 1201(b) of SAFETEA-LU requires the FHWA to "establish" data exchange formats within 2 years of the enactment of SAFETEA-LU, or August 10, 2007. Subsection 1201(c)(2) requires that "States shall incorporate data exchange formats established by the Secretary under subsection (b) to ensure that the data provided by highway and transit monitoring systems may be readily exchanged with State and local governments and may be made available to the traveling public."

Further analysis by the FHWA leads to the conclusion that subsections 1201(a)(1) and 1201(a)(2) do not specifically state that the use of FHWA-identified data exchange formats is a requirement for the 1201 programs, but only that the purpose of the section is to meet the larger goals including sharing data among the State and local governments and the traveling public. Furthermore, subsection 1201(d) makes funds eligible to meet the larger goals in 1201(a), but does not specifically mention that 1201(b) data exchange formats must be used for an entity to be eligible to apply Federal funds towards establishing Real-Time System Management Information Programs.

The comments and input received on these questions will not affect future rulemaking regarding the Real-Time System Management Information Program as described above. Rather, the comments and input received on these questions may be used by the FHWA for future guidance development and/or regulatory changes. We invite the public to submit comments on this interim guidance. We plan to issue final guidance after we have evaluated all the comments received on this interim guidance. Comments, including those from the State DOTs, regarding specific burdens, impacts, and costs would be most welcome and would aid us in more fully appreciating the impacts of Data Exchange Formats.

- What guidance would facilitate the application of data exchange formats in your organization?
- Does the reference document provide adequate detail on the nature of interoperability to be attained through application of the data exchange formats?
