DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

Coast Guard

[Docket No. USCG-2009-0553]

Material Safety Data Sheet Requirement in the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DHS.

ACTION: Notice of effective date.

SUMMARY: In the interest of providing seafarers with clear, concise, and accurate information on the health effects of certain toxic substances, the International Maritime Organization (IMO) recently amended the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea (SOLAS), 1974, to require Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDSs) for ships carrying oil or oil fuel as defined in regulation 1 of Annex I of the International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships, 1973, as modified by the Protocol of 1978 relating thereto (MARPOL). Once accepted by member States in accordance with Article VIII of SOLAS, and effective January 1, 2011, SOLAS will require that each ship subject to SOLAS and carrying oil or oil fuel as defined in MARPOL must be provided with MSDSs prior to loading such oil as cargo in bulk or oil fuel. Additionally, the IMO has recommended a format and content for the MSDSs, and that recommendation becomes effective July 1, 2009; the Coast Guard encourages this recommended format, which is set out below.

DATES: If accepted in accordance with the Convention, the SOLAS requirement that vessels be provided with MSDSs will become effective on January 1, 2011. The recommended IMO content and format for MSDS was approved effective July 1, 2009.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: If you have questions on this notice, call or e-mail Dr. Alan L. Schneider, CG-5223, Coast Guard, telephone 202-372-1421, e-mail alan.l.schneider@uscg.mil. If you have questions on viewing the docket, call Renee V. Wright, Program Manager, Docket Operations, telephone 202-366-9826.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

IMO Requirement That MSDSs Be Provided

In October of 2007, IMO adopted amendments to SOLAS chapter VI, inserting a new regulation 5-1 to read as follows:

Ships carrying oil or oil fuel, as defined in regulation 1 of Annex 1 of the International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships, 1973, as modified by the Protocol of 1978 relating thereto, shall be provided with Material Safety Data Sheets, based on the recommendations developed by the Organization,* prior to the loading of such oil as cargo in bulk or bunkering of oil fuel.

* Refer to the Recommendation for material safety data sheets (MSDS) for MARPOL Annex I cargoes and marine fuel oils, adopted by the Organization by resolution MSC.150(77), as may be amended.

The term "Annex I cargoes" refers to those oil cargoes included in Annex I (oils and oil products) of MARPOL; the term does not refer to chemicals.

The 2007 amendment created an anomaly in the application of SOLAS requirements. In June 2009, IMO amended regulation 1 of SOLAS Chapter VI to add the following to the first sentence, "Except as otherwise provided, t" and struck the "T", so that the text reads, "Except as otherwise provided, this * * *." Additionally, regulation 5-1, as amended, continues to read as set forth above. The effect of this action is to harmonize Regulation 1 with the amended Regulation 5-1. The effective date of both regulations is January 1, 2011.

When accepted in accordance with the Convention Article VIII, the amendments to SOLAS chapter VI will enter into force on January 1, 2011. Accordingly, beginning January 1, 2011, State parties to SOLAS can be expected to verify that ships subject to SOLAS have been provided with MSDSs, as required. After that date, all U.S. flagged SOLAS vessels traveling overseas should expect foreign Administrations to ask for MSDSs for each Annex I cargo and marine oil fuel on board. Also, after January 1, 2011, all U.S. and foreign flagged SOLAS vessels in U.S. ports should anticipate that the Coast Guard will ask for MSDSs, as part of its domestic and foreign vessel compliance activities and in fulfillment of the United States' duties as a party to the SOLAS convention.

Because the IMO only recently adopted the recommended format and content for MSDSs, the Coast Guard will provide a future notice containing detailed enforcement guidance, including MSDS guidance for vessels involved in lightering operations. For now, the Coast Guard recommends that MSDSs provided to a ship follow the recommended IMO content and format contained below. The Coast Guard anticipates that these MSDSs will be provided by the oil terminal or bunker supplier, unless otherwise arranged by the cargo/bunker supplier and the ship interests. It is further expected that ship-board personnel will have access to these MSDSs in a working language or languages understood by them. Additionally, occupational exposure limits referenced in an MSDS should be based on internationally recognized standards.

Although the SOLAS requirements for MSDSs do not apply to vessels not subject to SOLAS, such as unmanned inland barges, other regulations, such as 46 CFR 197.565, may require MSDSs to be on board.

In most cases, as a matter of good safety practice, vessels will already have MSDSs for all cargoes and these MSDSs usually will contain the recommended information. An MSDS may contain more information than the IMO recommends. In some cases, certain recommended data may not apply to the bulk liquid in question (data not applicable should be so noted); however, since some IMO member States may require all of the recommended information, it may be a good idea to include all recommended data.

Coast Guard Recommendation as to Layout and Content of MSDSs

Effective July 1, 2009, the IMO adopted the "Recommendation for Material Safety Data Sheets for MARPOL Annex I Cargoes and Marine Fuel Oils." The Coast Guard supports and encourages this recommendation in its entirety. Accordingly, the Coast Guard encourages industry to apply the following recommendations for the layout and content of an MSDS.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR MATERIAL SAFETY DATA SHEETS (MSDSs) FOR MARINE USE SUITABLE TO MEET THE PARTICULAR NEEDS OF THE MARINE INDUSTRY CONTAINING SAFETY, HANDLING, AND ENVIRONMENTAL INFORMATION TO BE SUPPLIED TO A SHIP PRIOR TO THE LOADING OF MARPOL ANNEX I TYPE OIL AS CARGO IN BULK AND THE BUNKERING OF OIL FUEL
