Request for Comments on Ending “Hold Harmless” Policy in Calculating Income Limits Under Section 3 of the United States Housing Act of 1937; Correction

AGENCY: Office of the Assistant Secretary for Policy Development and Research, HUD.

ACTION: Notice; correction.

SUMMARY: On September 14, 2009, HUD published a notice requesting public comment on whether HUD should discontinue its “hold harmless” policy with respect to Section 8 income limits. In its discussion of the impact discontinuing this policy, HUD included an erroneous statistic regarding the income levels of HUD assisted households. This notice corrects the statistic and extends the public comment period.

DATES: Comments Due Date: November 6, 2009.

ADDRESSES: Interested persons are invited to submit comments regarding this notice to the Regulations Division, Office of General Counsel, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 7th Street, SW., Room 10276, Washington, DC 20410-0500. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

On September 14, 2009 (74 FR 47016), HUD published a notice requesting public comment on whether HUD should discontinue its policy of maintaining Section 8 income limits at the previously published level in cases where HUD's estimate of area median family income (MFI) or housing cost adjustment data, or changes in calculation methodology, would lead to a lower income limit than was previously published. Section 8 income limits determine whether a family meets the definition of "low-income family" or "very low-income family," which are families whose incomes are below 80 percent and 50 percent, respectively, of the median family income for the area, with adjustments for family size. These income limits are used by a number of other federal programs other than the Section 8 program to determine eligibility for various forms of assistance. In explaining that discontinuation of the "hold harmless" policy would not adversely affect families in Section 8 and other HUD assisted housing, HUD included the following statement in the September 14, 2009, notice:

"More than 99 percent of HUD assisted households have incomes below the extremely low-income level (30 percent of area median), so modest decreases in the Section 8 income limits resulting from this change would have minimal impact on families residing in assisted housing."

The statement was incorrect in that the percentage of households in HUD assisted housing that have incomes below the "extremely low-income" level is 75 percent, rather than 99 percent, and in any case, HUD believes a more instructive statistic is the percentage of households in HUD assisted housing that have incomes below the "very low-income" level, which is 95 percent.

Based on HUD administrative data as of June, 2009, the more complete affordability statistics are as follows:

	Percent of tenant based rental assistance households at 50% or less of area median income (VLI)	Percent of tenant based rental assistance households at 30% or less of area median income (ELI)	Percent of place based rental assistance households at 50% or less of area median income (VLI)	Percent of place based rental assistance households at 30% or less of area median income (ELI)
New Admits	97	76	96	75
All Households	95	75	96	75

Accordingly, HUD is correcting the statement and extending the public comment period.

Correction

In the Federal Register of September 14, 2009, on page 47017, in the second column, section "III. Other Programs," correct the fourth sentence to read as follows:

More than 95 percent of HUD assisted households have incomes below the very low income level (50 percent of area median), so modest decreases in the Section 8 income limits resulting from this change would have minimal impact on families residing in assisted housing.

Dated: September 30, 2009.

Assistant Secretary for Policy Development and Research.
