ANA provides funding for community-based projects that are designed to improve the lives of Native children and families and reduce long-term dependency on public assistance. Competitive funding authorized under the Native American Programs Act of 1974 (NAPA), as amended, for community-based projects is provided through three competitive discretionary grant programs to eligible Tribes and non-profit Native American organizations: Social and economic development, language preservation, and environmental regulatory enhancement. In carrying out the provisions of NAPA, the Commissioner advises the Secretary, through the Assistant Secretary for Children and Families, on federal policies affecting Native Americans and matters pertaining to Native Americans within the Department of Health and Human Services and with other Departments and agencies of the Federal Government.
