

During the first public review of the ICR, HRSA inadvertently omitted the burden estimate for the instrument pertaining to manufacturer data required to verify the 340B ceiling price. The estimate for that instrument has been included here and HRSA invites comments to be submitted to OMB for consideration during the review and approval period.

Processing is defined to include preserving by any commercial process, such as canning, dehydrating, drying, or the addition of chemical substances, or converting the tomato product into juices, sauces, or purees. Fresh tomatoes that are imported for cutting up, not further processing (e.g., tomatoes used in the preparation of fresh salsa or salad bars), are covered by the investigation.

Commercially grown tomatoes, both for the fresh market and for processing, are classified as Lycopersicon esculentum. Important commercial varieties of fresh tomatoes include common round, cherry, grape, plum, greenhouse, and pear tomatoes, all of which are covered by this investigation.
