Page Limits for National Environmental Policy Act Documents and Focused Analyses

Consistent with the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) “Regulations for Implementing the Procedural Provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act” (NEPA), this interim policy provides that, to the extent practicable, DOT operating administrations (OAs) should limit the text of draft and final environmental impact statements (EISs) to 150 pages, unless they are of an unusual scope or complexity. The interim policy also recommends that environmental assessments not exceed 75 pages. The memorandum also discusses best practices to help comply with these page limits.

DOT finds it necessary to issue this interim policy because lengthy NEPA documents, containing extraneous detail and needless data, have resulted in increases in both time and cost to complete the environmental review process and has made it increasingly difficult for agency decisionmakers and the public to find the relevant information regarding proposed actions. Setting appropriate page limits is recognized as a mechanism to reduce excessive paperwork and ensure that NEPA documentation is clear, concise, and focused.

In addition to reaffirming the requirements found in CEQ regulations, this memorandum is consistent with the Department's existing NEPA implementing procedures, DOT Order 5610.1C, “Procedures for Considering Environmental Impacts” (July 30, 1985). It also aligns with the goals stated in Executive Order (E.O.) 13807, Establishing Discipline and Accountability in the Environmental Review and Permitting Process for Infrastructure Projects, 82 FR 40463 (Aug. 24, 2017), to achieve more efficient and effective Federal infrastructure decisions. The E.O. includes the goal of completing all Federal environmental reviews and authorization decisions for “major infrastructure projects” within 2 years.

Application of the One Federal Decision Process to DOT Projects

On August 15, 2017, the President signed E.O. 13807, Establishing Discipline and Accountability in the Environmental Review and Permitting Process for Infrastructure Projects. This E.O. mandated Federal agencies to use a One Federal Decision (OFD) process for “major infrastructure projects” (MIPs). MIPs are defined by the E.O. as infrastructure projects that require multiple authorizations by Federal agencies, where the lead agency has determined that the projects will require an environmental impact statement (EIS), and the project sponsor has identified the reasonable availability of funds sufficient to complete the project. The E.O. directs Federal agencies that have MIPs to prepare a permitting timetable to be tracked through the Federal Permitting Dashboard at <https://www.permits.performance.gov/>, establish an elevation process when a milestone may be missed or extended through an accountability system, and prepare a single environmental document and record of decision (ROD). These projects should have one lead Federal agency to navigate the project through the environmental review and authorization process. The E.O. establishes the goal of completing the environmental review process for MIPs in two years. In addition, all Federal authorization decisions should be completed within 90 days of the issuance of the ROD. Section 5(b)(iv)(C) also makes clear that the E.O. should be followed by State, tribal, or local agencies that are exercising an assignment or delegation of a Federal agency's NEPA responsibilities.

On April 9, 2018, several Departments and agencies involved in the development and approval of infrastructure projects, including DOT, executed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to facilitate the implementation of the E.O. The MOU outlined the roles and responsibilities for the agencies. This included establishing a pre-scoping process, concurrence points where each agency would have to agree in writing to key decision points, an elevation process to address disputes and schedule changes, and limited exceptions for applying the OFD process.

In September 26, 2018, Office of Management and Budget (OMB) released Memorandum M–18–25, Modernize Infrastructure Permitting Cross-Agency Priority Goal Performance Accountability System. This memorandum outlined how agencies would be held accountable for the implementation of the OFD process to their projects.

The DOT interim policy on the Application of the OFD Process to DOT Projects provides DOT NEPA practitioners the processes and procedures to implement the E.O., the MOU, and the OMB accountability system guidance to DOT projects. It incorporates guidance issued by OMB and CEQ on the application of the E.O. to States participating in the NEPA Assignment Program authorized by 23 U.S.C. 327. See M–19–11, Memorandum for the Secretary of Transportation: Guidance on the Applicability of E.O. 13807 to States with NEPA Assignment Authority under the Surface Transportation Project Delivery Program (Feb. 26, 2019), <https://www.whitehouse.gov/wp-content/uploads/2019/02/m-19-11.pdf>.

Issued in Washington, DC, on August 19, 2019.

Loren Smith,

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Transportation Policy.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the PRA (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), federal agencies must obtain approval from the OMB for each collection of information they conduct or sponsor. “Collection of information” is defined in 44 U.S.C. 3502(3) and 5 CFR 1320.3(c) to include questions posed to agencies, instrumentalities, or employees of the United States, if the results are to be used for general statistical purposes, that is, if the results are to be used for statistical compilations of general public interest, including compilations showing the status or implementation of federal activities and programs. The OCC asks that OMB extend its approval of this collection.

Title: Bank Secrecy Act/Money Laundering Risk Assessment.

OMB Control No: 1557–0231.

Type of Review: Regular.

Affected Public: Business or other for-profit.

Description: The MLR System enhances the ability of examiners and bank management to identify and evaluate Bank Secrecy Act/Money Laundering and Office of Foreign Asset Control (OFAC) sanctions risks associated with banks' products, services, customers, and locations. As new products and services are introduced, existing products and services change, and banks expand through mergers and acquisitions, banks' evaluation of money laundering and terrorist financing risks should evolve as well. Consequently, the MLR risk assessment is an important tool for the OCC's Bank Secrecy Act/Anti-Money Laundering and OFAC supervision activities because it allows the agency to better identify those institutions, and areas within institutions, that pose heightened risk and allocate examination resources accordingly. This risk assessment is critical in protecting U.S. financial institutions of all sizes from potential abuse from money laundering and terrorist financing. An appropriate risk assessment allows applicable control to be effectively implemented for the lines of business, products, or entities that would elevate Bank Secrecy Act/Money Laundering and OFAC compliance risks.

We will collect MLR information for community banks supervised by the OCC.

The format of OCC's annual Risk Summary Form (RSF) is fully automated, making data entry quick and efficient and providing an electronic record for all parties.

The OCC estimates the burden of this collection of information as follows:

Burden Estimates: Community bank population:

Estimated Number of Respondents: 1,088.

Estimated Number of Responses: 1,088.

Frequency of Response: Annually.

Estimated Annual Burden: 6,528 hours.

On May 10, 2019, the OCC issued a notice for 60 days of comment concerning this collection. No comments were received. Comments continue to be invited on:

(a) Whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information has practical utility;

(b) The accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the collection of information;

(c) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected;

(d) Ways to minimize the burden of the collection on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology; and

(e) Estimates of capital or start-up costs and costs of operation, maintenance, and purchase of services to provide information.

Dated: August 19, 2019.

Deputy Chief Counsel, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.
